Chaperones

- * Do's

- * Go to student's rooms each night and talk about day's activities as well as next day's activities keeping in mind what to bring, what time and where to meet and what to expect.
- * Give positive support to the group especially after a performance.
- * Provide constructive comments and be fair.
- * Show trust by giving students some freedom where possible.
- * Be genuinely interested in your students as you get to know them.
- * Provide an outlet for students to talk over problems.
- * Enjoy yourself and remember that your responsibility is to the group.
- * Set a good example always. Students will mirror what they see.
- * Help dispel rumors by investigating.
- * Be consistent with the rules and regulations of the group.
- * Support and encourage your director.

Chaperones (cont.)

- * Do Not's

- * Complain in front of the students.
- * Enter a student's room without knocking first.
- * Take matters into your own hands when rules are broken.
- * Create a "power struggle" between other chaperones.
- * Grant extra favors to those under your direct supervision.
- * Criticize the director/bus drivers or change policies.
- * Pamper students. They want to be treated like adults.
- * Favor or crowd your son/daughter on the trip.
- * Engage in negative behavior when students are present.

- * Other duties will include:

- * Take attendance every time we load a bus.
- * Perform room checks at curfew.
- * Keep unfortunate situations under control until a director can be reached.
- * Check student luggage prior to departure for inappropriate materials/substances.
